KEY CONTRIBUTIONS

My time at Monroe Township Middle School was an excellent opportunity for me to display the theories and practices I learned as a student at Bucknell University and as a paraprofessional at Colts Neck High School. I was able to thoroughly collaborate with both general education and special education teachers to modify assignments to better fit my students. While at Monroe Township Middle School, I accrued 36 hours of professional development and some of these workshops included The Co-Teaching Classroom and New Teacher Orientation 2015. I was also involved after school at Colts Neck by being a volunteer football coach and an adviser to both the National History Day club, and Chess club
